Lecture & Tea

The final installment of the Mary Ghormley Memorial Lecture Series will take place in the IQM's Reception Hall.

Quilter and journalist Tara Miller will present the history of the Wednesday Girls and the importance of Mary Ghormley's role in IQM's journey. A founding member of the Lincoln Quilters Guild, an organizer of the Lincoln Quilt Symposium of 1977, a field researcher for the Nebraska Quilt Project, and a volunteer at the IQM, Ghormley had a powerful influence on the quilting world.

The lecture will also include a traditional afternoon tea. The event is free, but seating is limited. Registration is required.
