

Lincoln Quilters Guild

October 2019

President's Message:

It's hard to believe my year as President is almost over. Without a quilt show, the year was relatively quiet, but there was still plenty to get done. I hope you noticed a few new or returning items this year...greeters at the entrance, great workshops including a Sunday workshop this year and plans for a couple more weekend workshops next year, flood relief quilts, and the start of the new placemat project for Meals on Wheels. More importantly, I hope you enjoyed both ongoing and new friendships this year.

The October meeting is an important one in terms of guild business. Please, please be sure to read the minutes and other reports in this message before coming to the meeting. The minutes include information about the budget and the process for proposing changes at next month's meeting. The minutes also include the names of those nominated for new positions on the Board next year. We will be voting on both the budget and the nominations at the October meeting, including current Board members who will move into a new role next year (Christina Chapman-Advisor, Lisa Burham-President, Janiece Goin and Linda Gale- co Vice Presidents, and Pam Rowland-Treasurer). And we will also start taking membership renewals for the 2019-2020 guild year.

As this year winds down, I hope you'll take a moment to thank those who have served and led the guild through this year and those who have agreed to do so next year. And I hope you look forward to next year as much as I do!

Two other people with LQG connections received Hall of Fame Awards at the Nebraska State Guild. Congratulations to Kay Grimminger who is the current President of FRIENDS of IQM, and Janice Lippincott who was one of our program presenters last year.

Two of our members are currently having Quilt Shows. Marilyn Rembolt has a quilt show at the Unitarian Church, and Chris Taylor has a show at Burkholder on 7th and P Street. Hours are 11-5 (Tuesday-Friday) and 11-3 (Saturday).

The Guild often receives thank you cards from individuals or family members of individuals who received quilts of comfort from an LQG group. These and other items of correspondence can be seen at the information table, along with other items of interest.

You can also find flyers on our information table detailing a new quilt challenge that celebrates the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th amendment which gave women the right to vote.

The newest exhibition at the International Quilt Museum is called Old World Quilts. These quilts are the museum's rarest and oldest, dating from 1600 to 1810. This is a rare treat of exquisite old quilts that you are unlikely to ever see again. It will be on display from September 6, 2019 to July 12, 2020.

The 6th Annual Friends of IQM Art Market will be held November 22-23 at the museum. In addition to area artists selling their jewelry, pottery, hand-dyed scarves and wooden works of art, the Friends table will be selling artsy and/or quilt-related items donated by you. One hundred percent of the proceeds from your donation goes to the quilt museum. Please bring your donations to IQM by our November meeting or take them directly to IQM. Thank you so much for your support.

Membership – Roddy Humeniak

Roddy reminded members that next month, October meeting, it will be time to renew your dues for the Lincoln Quilters Guild. Dues paid on or before Dec. 31, 2019, will be at the Early Bird rate of $40.00. Dues paid after that date will be $50.00. This year we will need to complete the entire form when renewing. That way if we have a new address, phone number or email address, the Membership chair will be made aware of the change.

Placemat Project – Caroline Forstrom & Lisa Burham

The Meals on Wheels would like the LQG members to make 500 placemats by December of 2020. They will be delivering them to their clients. Size recommendation is 13 x 18. Caroline showed samples of placemats. Lisa Burham gave tips on how to finish the placemats by turning your backing into the binding. Caroline Forstrom, Jerry Lee Jensen and Kathie Baumbach will be collecting the placemats.

Budget - Caroline Forstrom & President Christina Chapman

Caroline provided copies of the 2020/2021 proposed budget for those in attendance.

\(Click to view or download the proposed budget.\)

President Christina Chapman made the following statement for clarification of Roberts Rules. The Finance Committee has forwarded a motion to adopt the projection for the next 2 years as the budget for those two years. That motion is being shared at this meeting as notification for the discussion and vote that will take place next meeting. We will not be debating that motion tonight. We will have a brief Q&A session of up to 15 minutes during which time Caroline will address any member questions that are factual in nature or seek to understand the Finance Committee's reasoning.

Next month - We will allow up to another 15 minutes for Q & A and then the motion will be opened up to debate and then a vote. At that time, I will share additional guidelines so the issue can progress in an orderly fashion. Please know in advance, any motion presented during the debate must be provided to the President in writing first so it can be read to the membership before you start to speak. She then turned the podium over to Caroline to share the report.

Caroline shared the Committee's report showing the guild's budget & spending recent year and projections for upcoming years. There were no questions.

Programs – Marilyn Schnepf and Julie Albrect

Members were reminded of the upcoming programs that are listed on the LQG website.

Diane Harris was introduced as the September program presenter. Members were reminded that there were still openings for her class to be held on Tuesday.

Meeting adjourned,

Respectfully submitted by:

Joni Sauter, Substitute Secretary for Jerry Lee Jensen
