

On April 08, 2002, Sharon Rexroad, previously from Nebraska and currently from Columbia Missouri, will present her program on Inspiration and Innovation. You've seen her award-winning Diamond Pineapple quilts on magazine covers, on television, and now you can see them in person. She drew the inspiration for this technique from two traditional patterns, the Lone Star and the Pineapple. She will trace the evolution of both styles and see how they influence her work. Her workshop the Saturday before, on April 06, 2002 will demonstrate how she achieved her stunning results. We will piece on paper foundations and explore alternative color flow for different effects. Visit her website at www.sharonrexroad.com to view samples of her work. Sewing machine will be required and intermediate foundation paper piecing experience is recommended. Time: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (note the time change for this class) Cost: $30. Location: All Saints Lutheran Church, 8251 Pioneers Blvd.

Remember to bring:

President's Column by Janiece Goin

When a need arises, you are there! Thank you for your encouraging response (163 quilts!) to the Angel Quilt request. And thank you for scheduling time in the Resource Room. I know you will also rise to the calls of the Quilt Show Committee. The Lincoln Quilter's Guild is effective in it's mission because of your dedication.

Does anyone have a large basket, crock, etc. that could be used in the Resource Room for rotating Quilt magazines? This basket would hold the quilt magazines that you are willing to share with others. Anyone can take a magazine. I was told that some libraries do this and it works very well. Let's give it a try, and if you have a suitable container that could be used let me know.

Committee Chairs: Do you have any changes to suggest for your job description? Please let me know soon. Thank you. Janiece Goin Visions Committee The mission of the LQG visions committee is to explore long term planning options in accordance with LQG purposes. Committee members record input and make appropriate recommendations to the board.

Kathie Baumbach expertly crafted four pages of useful terms and definitions pertaining to LQG operations. These are now being offered to first time visitors as a test of helpfulness in educating people about LQG. Feedback may determine if this information should be included in the membership yearbook.

As an on going project the visions committee assesses the "working document " of LQG job descriptions. Anita Dover, Sheila Green, Roxanne O'Hare, Dr. Crews, and Ruth Griswold have offered valuable information. These updates are essential to planning for future needs. The visions committee welcomes your input. Members of the committee are listed in the membership book. from Jo Baxter

Lincoln Quilters Guild
Quilt Show 2002 - Quilting Safari
Special Quilt Display: "Healing Quilts"

Quilting is therapy for many quilters. It is the calm that keeps us focused. It is the way we respond to stress, illness, trauma and life-changing events. Quilts, simple or complex, provide a way for quilters to express themselves, and identify and work through grief, shock, disbelief and mourning. The devastating events of September 11th have affected all of us, and as a follow-up to our Pink Quilt Challenge for Breast Cancer Awareness, the Lincoln Quilters Guild will be having a Special Quilt Display as part of Quilt Show 2002. The display will feature "Healing Quilts --- Quilts Made by Quilters as Therapy."

Requirements:

1. Anyone ...at any quilting level is welcome to participate in the display.
2. The quilt must be no less than 48 inches around the outside perimeter. There is no maximum size but quilts larger than a full-size bed will be included based on available display area.
3. The quilt must somehow represent the theme according to the vision of the quilter. The quilter is asked to provide an explanation of how the quilt represents the theme. Include a short written description of the inspiration/interpretation of the theme that led to your creation on the registration form.
4. Quilts may be pieced, appliqued or a combination of techniques. They may be hand or machine quilted. The quilt may not be tied. Embellishments are acceptable.
5. Add a 4" sleeve to the top back for hanging. A 2" wide sleeve is acceptable for small quilts.
6. Each item displayed must have its own registration form. Forms are available at guild meetings and will be printed in the Plain Print. Forms may also be printed from the guild web site at <http://lqg.tripod.com> (alternate Web access at: <http://members.tripod.com/~LQG/index.htm>). Entry forms may be photocopied.
6. Identify the quilt on the bottom back corner with your name and title of the quilt. Each item must be enclosed in a FABRIC BAG with your name, address and phone number on the bag. Please use a PERMANENT PEN on the bag or pillowcase. A piece of paper or tape will not be accepted. The special display quilts will be hung during LQG Quilt Show 2002. Quilts for the display will be received at each monthly meeting prior to the quilt show or may be delivered to committee member's homes by arrangement. In addition, dates and times for delivering your "Healing Quilt" to the quilt show site will be announced prior to the quilt show.
7. Quilts will not be judged and there will be no monetary prizes. Quilts will receive awards according to Viewer's Choice ballot.

Quilt Show 2002 Quilting Safari

The 2002 LQG Quilt Show is rapidly approaching! For those of you who haven't marked your calendars yet it's June 14th, 15th and 16th at Lux Middle School, 79th and High Street.

Quilt Show information will all be on display during Guild meetings in the hallway that runs around behind the meeting room. Be sure to stop by and check it out. Information about the show is also on the LQG website at LQG.tripod.com (alternate access at: <http://members.tripod.com/~LQG/index.htm>). Registration forms are available online and can be downloaded for your use.

All members of LQG are invited to enter items for display at the show. There will be 6 categories of entries -- Quilts (crib to King size bed quilts) Wallhangings, Clothing/Wearable Art and Dolls. There are also two special categories -- the Healing Quilts and the Closet Cleaner Challenge projects. The guidelines for these 2 categories are found elsewhere in this issue of the Plain Print. The theme of the entries does not have to be safari related.

Everyone is encouraged to submit their registration forms as soon as possible. Forms can be turned in at Guild meetings or mailed to Pat Hackley at 3235 S. 28th St. Lincoln, NE 68502-5108. The sooner registration forms are turned in, the sooner the Committee can start typing up display tags. Be sure to include a short narrative about the item -- what inspired you to make it, why you won't ever make another one, etc.

Raffle tickets are still available for sale. Elsewhere in this issue of Plain Print you will find some volunteer opportunities to sit with the quilt and help sell raffle tickets, please consider helping out. Also, please remember to turn in your money or unsold tickets at Guild meetings -- only 2 more meetings until the show!

Thanks to all of you who have already volunteered to help in various ways with the show. That's what it takes to make a successful show. The Committee has a few more volunteer opportunities available:

1. Anyone who does machine embroidery to help make award ribbons -- with 6 categories we will need lots of ribbons.
 2. Anyone who has sturdy green plants that they would be willing to loan for display during the show.
 3. Someone to post signs along the streets to direct people to the show. Lux is a wonderful setting but not the easiest place to find.
- If you can help out with any of these things, please contact Christy Stoner at 489-9259 or Lorelee Novak at 423-3863.

2002 Quilt Show Auction: The Committee would like to thank all the people who've donated items for the auction. So far we've received 38 items including quilts, Christmas stockings, pincushions, and embroidery hoop hangings. Our goal is 100 items by June. The money from the auction will help support guild programs. (Last show the auction brought in over $4,000.)

Each person who donates an item receives a candy bar, ribbon identifying her as a donor, and one chance per item to win a thank-you prize provided by our local quilt shops. Sew Creative, Creative Hands, Hooper Creek, Front Parlor, Vogies, and Mangelsons have very generously donated items for this purpose. Each month's drawing is pulled from the total number of raffle tickets. If you don't win this month you may win next month and the sooner you get your items in the better chance you have of winning something.

We would very much appreciate your donations of quilts (large or small), garments, dolls, baskets of sewing supplies, and other handcrafted items. Individuals or small groups may donate items. You may attach your own label or pick one up from us. We can be found at the Quilt Show table in the hallway before guild meetings. Come see what people have donated, get inspired, and help us (the entire guild) out. Thanks.

from Phyllis Higley and Lynn Deshon, Quilt Show Auction Chairs

CLOSET CLEANER CHALLENGE (aka UFOs)

Here's a challenge for those of you who might be getting a guilty conscience over incomplete projects stacking up in drawers, closets, corners, on chairs or the dining room table. This is also for those of you who don't feel quite right about taking another quilting class because you already have a "few" projects started. The Quilt Show 2002 committee challenges you to dig out a project (or more) and finish it in time for the 2002 quilt show. The show is June 14-15-16, 2002 -- plenty of time to make a dent in the closet clutter. Only one condition to the challenge: the project must be at least 5 years old. Old projects you've inherited from your mother-in-law or some other "older" quilter qualify. Blocks or tops you picked up at a garage sale or antique shop and haven't been inspired to do anything with, will also qualify. To keep you motivated (one of the reasons the project ended up in the closet in the first place is that class was over and you lost your inspiration/motivation right?) we are asking you to register your project for the challenge at the October meeting. Ok, so we'll take late registrations from those of you who have just decided to commit yourself to the task. You'll have a lot of encouragement along the way and just think of all the new "stuff" you will be able to get when you make room in the closet. And who knows -- Quilt Show 2002 may have some real vintage displays!

QUILT SHOWS at the UNIVERSITY PLACE CENTER

The Quilt Shows continue in the Resource Room. January 23-March 12, "Harmonic Convergence (AKA Strip Tease)" quilts were featured. March 12-May 1st, the theme is "Vacation Destination." On May 1, Art Center visitors will be able to take a close up look at the quilts that have been donated for the Quilt Show Auction. We hope that it will increase interest and attendance for our largest fundraiser, the Quilt Show. Visitors to the University Place Art Center have enjoyed viewing our quilts and the conversation they spark with the LQG members as they staff the Resource Room. I have had positive comments from numerous individuals throughout the community about our quilts.

Thank you to the following who have lent the 43 quilts for the "Harmonic Convergence" and "Vacation Destination" Shows: Sandy Anderson, JoAnne Bair, Brenda Carlson, Donna Christenson, Anita Dover, Mildred Fauquet, Sharlee Green, Sheila Green, Pat King, Lucile Lenz, Carolyn Meter, Elaine Nielsen, Marilyn Rembolt, Gloria Smith, Donna Svoboda, and Beverly Vogel. from Sheila Green

COMMUNITY OUTREACH: Irving Middle School held a Prairie Festival on March 13th. One of the events at the festival was a quilt class taught by members of the Lincoln Quilters Guild.

Fifteen 8th grade girls were taught how to make a one-patch tied quilt. Each girl left with a small quilt.

The following members of LQG shared their quilting skills and knowledge with the students: Jean Baker, Brenda Carlson, Sharlee Green, Sheila Green, Phyliss Horn, Dorothy Neill, Wendy Ray, and Marilyn Rembolt. They all deserved a big thank you. from Gloria Smith

Membership Dues 2002-2003 Bev Vogel will be available before and after the April & May meetings to take dues for Lincoln Quilters Guild year 2002-2003. Dues are $25.00 annually. Paid members also receive the Plain Print each month.

CUDDLE QUILT UPDATE To all LQG members - THANK YOU! I was so surprised and pleased at the number of angel quilts you took the time to create! I don't know just how many I expected, but you went beyond my dreams to turn in 171 angel quilts! Amazing, you each deserve a hug! Now we will begin to put labels on them and deliver to the hospitals.

The Fractured Log Cabin workshop that we did in March had a small, but productive group of quilters due to the weather. We are setting together 6 fractured log cuddle quilts. Please watch your newsletter for other "special" workshops, and if you have any suggestions let us know!

Our next regular workshop day is Friday, April 5. Jean Baker will be there to help guide you on what needs to be worked on. Jean is our right hand when Sue or I can't make it, and we appreciate all of her hard work!

Once again Thank You for your help & keep stitching, Roxann & Sue
